A warning has been sent to Grand Lodge officials throughout the country to watch for Normady. It was reported that his scheme was to obtain employment as a lecturer for the order, and after getting acquainted, forge checks.

When Normady appeared at Mr. Meyer's office yesterday about noon and applied for a position as a lecturer, notding the stub of his right arm behind him and extending his leit hand, Mr. Meyer recognized him immediately from his description. Sheriff Bragg of Murfresboro, Tenn., has officred a reward for Normady's arrest, and in the circular he sent out to the police says Normady is wanted there for forgery. Normady toid Chief Desmond yesterday afternoon that he would go back to Tennessee without requisition papers.

It is stated that Normady is wanted also in several other States, among them Indiana, Ohio and California, where, it is charged, he forged the names of A. O. U. W. officials to checks.

When Normady was searched yesterday afternoon by the police a combination knife and fork was found in his pocket. The knife blade and fork are made together and the handle is so arranged that it can be attached to his arm, which is cut off above the wrist. When not in use the knife may be folded up. Chief Desmond says it would make a wicked weapon.

Weather for Some Days. Weather for Some Days.

Unsettied weather, with showers and moderate temperature, is the weather forecast for St. Louis and vicinity to-day. Forecaster Bowie says there are no indications of pleasant weather and that the present damp, drizzly conditions are apt to exist for three or four days to come.

There is a low barometer over nearly the whole United States and this general cloudy condition gives little prospect for any change locally.
